ABOUT FABS

The Francophone Africa Business Summit (FABS), an initiative of Epena Law, was established to facilitate trade, investment and business partnerships between Anglophone and Francophone Africa.

FABS brings together businesses, investors, financial institutions, public-sector representatives and other decision-makers to explore commercial opportunities, share practical insights and build relationships that support cross-border growth. It also helps businesses better understand Francophone African markets and their legal and regulatory environments.

THE DIALOGUE BY FABS

Kenya Edition:
Bridging Markets, Building Partnerships

Building on the experience of the Lagos editions, The Dialogue by FABS introduces a more focused format. Each edition is designed to address the commercial opportunities and challenges connecting specific markets, bringing together people who can turn discussions into business relationships and practical outcomes.

WHY KENYA?

Kenya is an important commercial and financial hub in East Africa, with established strengths in financial services, technology, investment and regional trade. Nairobi offers a strategic meeting point for businesses looking to expand across African markets.

Despite these opportunities, commercial ties between Kenya and Francophone Africa remain relatively underdeveloped. Businesses may face gaps in market knowledge, uncertainty around legal and regulatory requirements, and difficulty identifying reliable local partners.

The Kenya edition of The Dialogue by FABS seeks to help bridge this gap by bringing together business leaders and institutions from both regions to identify synergies, exchange experience and explore practical opportunities for cross-border trade, investment and collaboration.
